خلاصه مقاله:

A significant amount of academic literature and researches in the field of translation are being focused on the gender notion in translation in recent years (e.g. von Flotow ۲۰۰۱, Simon ۱۹۹۶, and Chamberlain ۱۹۹۸). After the revolution of the worldwide suffrage of the ۲۰th century and the women's liberation movement of the ۱۹۷۰'s promoted a revision from the feminists to actively interrogate the usual and accepted versions of the History as it was known at the time. New way of looking at history came out of the analysis. This gave birth to the Gender History studies. So Gender in Translation is the first comprehensive study of feminist issues in translation theory (and practice) (Munday, ۲۰۰۶, p. ۱۳۱).
